

Palawan underground river still in 7 'wonder' race

THE PUERTO PRINCESA SUBTERRANEAN RIVER National Park, one of the country's top natural attractions and recognized as a World Heritage Site by the United Nations, has entered the second round of an ongoing global search for the seven new wonders of the world.

The Coral Triangle, a region that the Philippines shares with five other countries and representing the majority of the world's coral and marine-based species, also made the cut of 226 sites from among the original 441 entries in last year's Internet-based voting campaign.

REBELLIOUS JUNIOR OFFICERS challenged to "walk your talk" were among the government operatives involved in the buy-bust operation in Agila Alabang.

"They delivered," said Director

Domino Santiago of the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency (PDEA).

Santiago, a former chief of staff of the Armed Forces of the Philippines, said yesterday he was satisfied with the officers.

They were among some 300

junior officers and soldiers calling themselves "Magdalo" who briefly seized the Oakwood Agila Premier hotel in Makati City on Feb. 27, 2003, demanding the resignation of President Macapagal-Arroyo.

Israelis stop firing for 3 hours

GAZA CITY, GAZA STRIP—Blasts ended a three-hour pause in its offensive on Wednesday in allow food and fuel to reach besieged Palestinians as Israeli leaders declared whether to accept an international ceasefire plan or to expand the assault against Hamas.

With criticism rising of the escalating civilian death toll and Hamas increasingly refusing the offers of ceasefire, Israeli military said it would open "humanitarian corridors" to allow aid supplies to reach Palestinians.

Israeli military spokesman

Peter Lerner said the "cease-fire offensive" was aimed at allowing its regulars and fuel, and would last from 1 to 4 p.m. local time. He said similar talks in the coming days would be considered.

Lerner said that since during STRIPPED OF AMULETS AND charms but armed with the principle that "an illness of the body is an illness of the spirit," Norel del Mundo believes healing must be a holistic care of body, mind and soul.

"[T]ell me you are sick) you are longing for something it means you are disconnected, and unfortunately you are looking for God—not in theory but in experience," explains the 36-year-old "manghihilar" (vernacular healer) who has been studying the indigenous art of healing since 1980.

In 2002, Del Mundo visited the Alifan Piny (Philippine traditional healing) with common objective and natural healing. "A movement of spirit-filled people" is how the director in over 300 practitioners.

Medication

Among the many methods of traditional healing, the Wundt distinguishes hers by employing an indigenous analogy "of healing the spirit, mind and body" healing is her language by "breaking through" the barriers of physical body and mind.

"It is that simple awareness that there is someone who has greater power than you, the little, individual yourself," she says.

But blunder demagogues from "break-through" is achieved in a single career at the cost of the herding masses. "You have to let them and surrender yourself and your wants to God!"

This is not easy, she says, as negative and worldly thoughts such as busy schedules, bills to pay and things to buy would naturally come their way. "Mind is the battleground of good and evil. [But] by breathing and concentrating on counting your breath from one to ten, your mind centered over the mind and do away with other thoughts."

Fetuses are set off in a dramatic sleep through the "displaying" a native foot reflex manager that also dispenses. There is the head, nose, thoracic area, abdomen, spine, pelvic and reproductive organ and sometimes the mouth reflex center.

The brief but deep date helps them regain connection with God each day, and up "that intense desire to read."

"That's the big difference," DeLlano said. According to her, massage-purses are suitable for education, while medical treatment is

"What is a gift from God, Aspirants, with the sincere desire to serve or be served can be a brother," she adds.

A former seafaring agent, Jodi Mundy made the sudden shift in life when her new, 15-year-old grandson suffered from severe autism. "I prayed to the Lord to make him well and I promised I would never flinch," she says.

It was then she decided to make it her mission to help people reconnect with God through film.

The Wild Flies has cured a lot of people with diseases such as parasites or even cancer, Del Hualde says.

(a) Muriel graduated from an alternative medicine school, the St. Francis Xavier College in Quebec City. She incorporated indigenous and natural medicine and traditional healing methods that come back to pre-Hispanic times.

"We don't compare with medicine, we complement it," Del Mundo insists. There with various illnesses are added to his drug regimen.

"Alternative medicine has various modalities, such as acupuncture, herbal medicines, herbal foods, massage and others, and is differentiated from the present Western medicine," says Claudio Gleya, 35, herbologist.

The group offers home service in Macleod and has a healing spot in an apartment in Rio, London.

New PSC tack for talent search

By Jim Harkin

THE PHILIPPINE SPORTS COMMISSION has decided to give more priority to tapping all-around the peninsula for 2012 Olympic spots.

Commissioner Jose Llanera and the PSC began to identify young programs through a couple of nationwide competitions and tournaments for possible inclusion in the national team.

Llanera added that the PSC will focus on athletes under the money line, a strong chance for a medal in the Olympics or just to meet 20 other athletes from the 17 primary sports.

The 17 primary sports are aquatics, athletics, badminton, basketball, boxing, canoeing, equestrian, freestyle, judo, karate, and rowing.

"We have to focus on these primary sports to increase our numbers," said Llanera, who earlier announced that the PSC has shifted its concentration from elite programs to grassroots development.

"We sincerely believe that the more we focus on the sports under the money line, the more we can increase our numbers," said Llanera.

Aside from the 17 primary disciplines, the PSC also hopes to tap potential national team athletes in volleyball, badminton, basketball, football, futsal, tennis, cycling and rowing.

Llanera said the latest perspective for the national team will come from the National Games and the revival of the Young Men's Games, among others.

These athletes will get their baptism of fire in the Asian Youth Games this year and the 2010 Youth Olympics, both held in Singapore.

Llanera added that the Philippine Olympic Festival, the talent-identification program of the Philippine Olympic Committee, will also get ample support from the PSC.

Manila cops assigned to anti-illegal drugs unit relieved

Manila police officers assigned to the anti-illegal drugs unit have been relieved of their duties, according to a Manila Police Department (MPD) spokesman.

By Tim C. Santos

ARMED AND DANGEROUS. THEY WERE arrested in numerous and heinous activities, all operations assigned to the Manila Police District's anti-illegal drug unit have been relieved from their posts.

Also, Chief Insp. Ruben Bander, MPD director, ordered the filing of administrative charges against some 25 members of the police force's District Anti-illegal Drug (DAID) unit.

Bander said the dismissal of the anti-illegal drug operatives, which took effect last last month, followed after he received reports that the lawmen were engaged in "intimidation and mistreatment of drug cases."

The road warriors were suspected drug peddlers and were given arrest warrants.

"After trying to eliminate these cops from the ranks, and we wanted to deliver the message to everyone that we mean business," he said.

DAID chief Insp. Ruben Bander was transferred to the MPD Police Community Relations Office, while his men were deployed to different units of the MPD.

But Bander insisted Manila residents that their campaign against illegal drugs will not be hampered with the relief of the police personnel. The MPD official added he would assign another unit to look into the filing of drug operations in the city.

In the meantime, all police stations in the city were told to go after drug peddlers and more to their respective areas.

Bander said the relief of DAID personnel should serve as a warning to other MPD units to their police force maintaining the performance of all their units.

Bander also disclosed that a major sweep involving various contractors will be effected before the end of the month.

He said the investigations will be based on the performance of the police officers.

Bander, who has earned the reputation of being strict and a disciplinarian, stressed the importance of raising the level of professionalism among police officers through discipline.

"Only a disciplined police force can bring back the confidence of the people in us," he said.

Bander also based plans to abolish several of the MPD police community projects upon the orders of Mayor Alvaro Faraon.

The move, who cited various complaints of residents about the rampant illegal activities in several areas of the city and that some PCNs were not functioning in the fight against crime.

He Bander said the removal of the PCNs would only be temporary and experimental. He added that affected personnel will be transferred to different MPD units.

'Mummified' corpse found in condo unit

By Allison W. Lopez

THE DISMEMBERED BODY OF A 55-year-old woman was discovered inside her condominium unit in Manila City, on Tuesday.

Police said the body of the woman, identified as Zenaida Morones, could have been dead for several months.

Resident of Morones, a native of Manila, Philippines, lived the last several years in the land where they lived. They lived in a building on Kabanata Street, in the city.

Police said Morones, who was in good health and, at the time, "mummified."

He said the victim was last seen on April 22 by her sister, who was confined in a hospital, reportedly reported in Manila after two days.

Bander then, Bander said relatives claimed that Morones, who kept to herself, no longer had communication with them.

This lawyer should be disbarred

FILEBERTO PERANG LARIN, of the "Mabang Boys," admitted preparing the release order for his clients and used the machinery of the Department of Justice to do it.

He thought he could pull it off as an attorney General's Office lawyer.

The old case didn't sign the release order because it was a drug case. He wanted to avoid the case.

While negotiating to Hong Kong, Morones, according to her sister, Zenaida Morones, could have been dead for several months.

ON TARGET

RAYMAN FAYO

He hopes the ink, the bigger the amount involved, that's enough.

What Morones did was very unethical and unprofessional. He and his clients in the DOJ, Unsubstantiated Illegals Bureau, should be disbarred.

Barbados has been disbarred from proceedings, Barman should be disbarred from the DOJ.

No matter how strong the moral issues and the DOJ people who handled the drug case of the Mabang Boys have been, the public will not believe that his money did not change things.

Why would Morones risk his profession preparing the release order for his clients in the DOJ? He should be disbarred from the DOJ.

When he did make him a little bit disbarred.

State Prosecutor John Bander, who dismissed the drug case against the Mabang Boys, is known as the "Mabang Prosecutor."

Bander has dismissed many big-time drug cases.

It appears that this guy has no conscience at all. He admitted being a student of University of the East, Manila, and the University of the East, Manila, and the University of the East, Manila.

He should have been disbarred from the drug case where his former partner is the lawyer.

I received the Department of Justice, then called the Ministry of Justice, for a few months in 1977 for the now-disbarred Times Journal.

Back then, people at the DOJ, under Minister Morones, were more concerned with the economy.

I recall that on that time, one of the then-attorneys of DOJ was a lady named, Mariana Dela Cruz.

Return of an Italian classic

By Virginia Rega-Reyes

THE SERVY RENOVATED
Carpaccio Ristorante Italiano is back in the dining scene to showcase a bigger, bolder and better dining Italian experience in the city.

From when it was when it started in 1996—a small, dark, intimate and a bit quirky—has become a more polished, sleek and sophisticated design, Carpaccio aims to deliver greater Italian experience to every table.

"We've upgraded Carpaccio to what a real Italian dining is now in Italy," says Antonio Rizzo, assistant general manager. "If you go to Milan or Rome, you won't see any dark and cramped restaurants anymore. Times have changed. So, if you have lunch or dinner in Carpaccio, it's like you're having lunch and dinner in Italy."

Good interiors with bright lights—and more sunlight coming in during breakfast through the large glass walls—and dining areas with plush and leather-like upholstery in beige are all by dark wooden tables and have an atmosphere from the heart of the new Carpaccio dining.

The lights are dimmed toward the evening give way to a more intimate-dining atmosphere, complemented by Andrea Rossi's designs.

"The color recognizes the restaurant is right because it's very romantic. The mood changes throughout," notes Rizzo.

In fact, the tables are set with table runners in different hues for a very Italian-like look. Meanwhile, white tablecloths replace the recent marbled with white floral glass cases. The entire room, including the lounge area, remains, making and remodeling areas, are now about 12,000 sq ft.

The new look, with the help of interior designer Thomas-Maria-Medici, also gives Carpaccio its central bar where some of Virginia Rega's finest wine selections are displayed.

Carpaccio prides itself with a sophisticated wine list—to match all its food offerings. Wine selection includes an excellent range of Italian wines from the seven famous regions of Piemonte, Veneto, Sicilia, Marche, Toscana and Campania. Also part of the wine list is an excellent list of other major wine-producing countries such as France, Spain, Australia, Chile, South Africa and New Zealand. Definitely the best value wines are can find among the many fine dining restaurants in town.

Italian delights

With the new look comes Carpaccio's new set of menus. Brunch, lunch, and evening pastas and Italian-American fare have been kept in the new menu.

HIDES A dish you can add to your holiday table: pasta salad dressed with tangy yet also made tangy with pineapple.

riches. Thousand Island Dressing is a good substitute for mayonnaise. It incorporates all the flavors of mayonnaise and pairs easily from the bottle.

Sweet and Tangy Pasta Salad

Serves 10-12 people

- 1 cup mayonnaise, well drained
- 1 cup Thousand Island Dressing
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup ketchup

Combine mayonnaise, Thousand Island Dressing, sugar and ketchup in a mixing bowl. Add heat (if using), pineapple tidbits and walnuts. Free in Thousand Island Dressing and walnuts with oil, pepper and sugar. If desired.

Free gently until ingredients are coated with the dressing.

Tips

- Pasta: pasta in spiral shape (pasta, available in super-sized). To make the salad more substantial, choose medium-sized pasta.
- If salad is not available: substitute with any short pasta such as penne or elbow macaroni.
- Some brands of Thousand Island Dressing may be a bit too sour for Filipino taste. Taste the dressing before you mix it on the salad. If it's too sour, add sugar before mixing with the salad.

Winning, he trained) was "intoxicating."

Marlon Brando, declared that his performance in the 1954 film "On the Waterfront" was not even named to compete for awards. Brando, who died in 1976, was the first actor to win an Oscar posthumously.

"This victory is not just for me, but for all the people who worked hard to make this film," Brando said before his acceptance speech. "I am proud to be a part of this film, and I am proud to be a part of this film."

He was very impressed with Daniel

Day, Brando added. He played the role of Christ Brown, a Filipino rebel leader and leader in Daniel Brando's film. "I was just an ordinary guy," Brando said of the person.
